TMG Updates Comprehensive 3G Mobile Licensing and Spectrum Valuation Resource

Telecommunications Management Group, Inc. (TMG) announces the 2011 update of its 3G Licensing Around the World database, an indispensable tool for understanding the spectrum holdings, license fees paid and terms and conditions associated with third generation (3G) mobile licenses in the 1.9 GHz/2.1 GHz and 1.7 GHz/2.1 GHz spectrum bands. The update includes information on 45 countries and contains detailed profiles of 155 current 3G licensees. The database provides crucial information for conducting comparative analyses of spectrum awards and valuations, which will be particularly important as regulators around the world move forward with new spectrum tenders for advanced mobile services. For each country, clear and concise tables and notes present comprehensive information including:

- Current 3G licensees
- Initial and additional license fees in local currency and U.S. dollars (USD)
- Amount of spectrum held and, for most operators, exact spectrum assignments
- Spectrum valuations (USD/MHz/POP)
- Licensing method (auction, beauty contest or direct award)
- License information including award date, coverage obligations and performance bond requirements
- Service launch dates and technologies deployed

3G Licensing Around the World provides the current status and relevant histories of 3G licensing in the 1.9 GHz/2.1 GHz and 1.7 GHz/2.1 GHz bands in markets around the world.

Data is currently available for the following regions and countries:

Americas: Brazil, Canada, Chile, Mexico, United States

Asia-Pacific: Australia, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea (Rep.), Macau, Malaysia, New Zealand, Philippines, Singapore, Taiwan, Vietnam
